Practice questions

In this booklet, there are different types of question for you to answer in different ways.

Here are some practice questions which show you the types of question you will see in the test. The instructions tell you what you need to do.

Start by reading the text in the box below.

It was the middle of the night when the rocket landed in the supermarket car park. The engine had failed. The hatch opened and a Martian peered out. A Martian is about three feet tall and has webbed feet, green skin and googly eyes like a snail. This one was 327 years old and wore a red jumper.

"Bother," he said. He was always getting lost. It was a cold night and the Martian shivered. Then a car beeped and he scuttled behind a rubbish bin. Everything looked very strange and frightening.

It began to rain. The Martian wrapped himself in a newspaper, but the rain soon came through that.

a Where did the Martian's rocket land?

Tick one.

- in a rubbish bin
- in a car park
- on a car
- on a house

- b) Find and copy one word that tells you the colour of the Martian's jumper.

Hint: You must look back in the text to find this.

- c) Draw two lines to match each word with what it describes. One has been done for you.

webbed	skin
green	eyes
googly	feet

- d) Put ticks to show which statements are true and which are false.

	True	False
The rocket landed in the afternoon.

My job as a penguin keeper

I interviewed Emma about her job as a penguin keeper. Emma looks after the penguins at an aquarium in Wales.

What is your job?

My job is to look after the penguins who live at the aquarium. The penguins swim in big tanks of water.

Please tell me about what you do.

It's lots of fun, but it's also very dirty and smelly! I start my day by cleaning the whole tank – penguins poo a lot! A big part of the job is to make sure the penguins' water is nice and clean. Twice a day I feed the penguins fish. I also spend time training and playing with the penguins. At the moment, I am training them to stand on scales so I can weigh them easily.

This is Emma.

- 1 Emma is a penguin keeper.
What does this mean?

Tick one.

- She collects penguins.
- She looks after penguins.
- She has some pet penguins.
- She lives with penguins.

- 2 What does Emma say about her job?
She says it is ...

Tick two.

- tiring.
- hard.
- dirty.
- boring.
- fun.

- 3 A big part of the job is to make sure the penguins' water is nice and clean.
What does this tell you?

Tick one.

- Emma does not enjoy cleaning the water.
- It is very important to keep the water clean.
- Emma spends all her time cleaning the water.
- It does not matter if the water gets dirty.

Do you have a favourite penguin?

Yes. My favourite penguin is Bob. Bob came to us from America and he is six years old. All the penguins seem to prefer a certain keeper and Bob likes me the best. He's my favourite because he has the best waddle out of all the penguins!

Do you ever swim with the penguins?

Yes! Once a month I need to dive into their tank to clean the bottom. When I first get in, the penguins jump out, a little startled. They soon come back into the water because they love to watch what I am doing in their home.

4 Which of these statements about Bob are true?

Tick two.

- Bob is Emma's favourite penguin.
- Bob cannot waddle.
- Bob does not like Emma.
- Bob is from America.
- Bob is two years old.

- 5 When I first get in, the penguins jump out, a little startled.
What does the word startled tell you about the penguins?

Tick one.

They are ...

excited.

cross.

- 6 Look at Do you ever swim with the penguins?
Which sentence best explains what happens when Emma gets into the water?

Tick one.

The penguins swim over to her straight away.

The penguins get out of the water but soon get back in.

The penguins dive down to the bottom of the tank.

The penguins get out of the water and stay on the side.

- 7 Look at the text on page 10. Draw three lines to match each statement with the reason why.

Emma likes Bob best because they are a bit surprised.

Emma dives into the water

because he has a good waddle.

The penguins jump out of the water to clean the bottom of the tank.

What do the penguins enjoy doing?

Our penguins spend a lot of time in the water, zooming around, playing and catching krill. They also like to float in front of the windows to say hello to the visitors. Penguins can remain under the water for up to seven minutes before coming up to breathe!

What do penguins like to drink?

Penguins enjoy drinking fresh water when they can, so I give them fresh water. At sea, they have no choice but to drink seawater. Penguins have a special gland near their eyes that takes the salt out of their blood. When they shake their head, the salt shoots out of their nose!

krill	a small creature that lives in the sea
gland	a part of the penguin's body that can remove unwanted things from its blood

- 8 Put ticks to show which statements are true and which are false. One has been done for you.

Elephant adventure

The rain poured. Tom sat by the window, watching the raindrops roll down the glass. All the animals and birds in the garden were hiding in the trees.

Tom could hardly believe that in just a week's time he would be on holiday in Kenya, a very hot country in Africa. Excitement tingled through him. Lots of different wild animals lived there – lions, giraffes, zebras, cheetahs and, best of all, elephants!

Tom loved all animals, but he especially liked elephants with their wrinkly grey skin, big flapping ears and kind, wise eyes. I wonder if I'll meet one, he thought.

1 Why were the animals and birds hiding in the trees?

Tick one.

It was very hot.

It was raining.

It was windy.

It was noisy.

Week later, Tom and his parents were on holiday in Kenya. They were on an adventure to see animals in the wild. They were staying on a campsite with their guide, Halisi.

Tom felt disappointed because they hadn't seen any elephants yet. One morning he stepped out of the tent and saw his mum coming towards him.

"Visitors!" his mum said, hurrying over. "Get dressed. We're going to go down to the river to watch them!"

Tom dashed back into the tent and pulled on some shorts, a T-shirt and a hat as quickly as he could. Then he ran back outside and hurried down to the nearby river with his parents and Halisi.

4 Put ticks to show which statements are true and which are false.

Tom stared in delight. Three baby elephants were splashing around in the muddy water while two adults watched them.

There was a loud trumpeting noise and more elephants appeared, their feet thumping into the ground as they walked down to the water.

"Oh, wow!" breathed Tom, feeling lost for words. Ten elephants!

Their thick skin was covered with dry brown mud, their huge ears flapped constantly to keep away the flies, and they waved their trunks.

6 What were the baby elephants doing?

Tick one.

watching the adult elephants

making a trumpeting noise

splashing around in the water

walking down to the water

7 Find and copy one word that describes the sound of the elephants' feet.

8 "Oh, wow!" breathed Tom, feeling lost for words.

Tom watched as one of the young elephants put its trunk in the river and then sprayed brown water over its back. The smallest elephant was trying to clamber out, but its feet kept slipping on the bank and it slid back into the water again and again.

Eventually two of the adult elephants got into the water and pushed it out with their heads. The baby looked very funny scrambling around on the slippery mud.

Halisi caught Tom's eye and smiled. "I knew we would see elephants in the end," Halisi said.

"What do you think?" Tom's dad asked him.

"They're wonderful!" Tom said happily.

9 Why did the smallest elephant find it difficult to get out of the water?

Tick one.

It kept slipping on the muddy bank.

It had brown water all over its back.

It did not have anyone to help it.

It had hurt its feet on the river bank.
